FOR SUSPENSION.

Captain Roemer's Superiors Satisfied to Wait for the Board's Action.

CHIEF CAMPBELL'S POSITION.

Charges Not Serious Enough to Warrant Suspension, Even if True-Mr. Hawes Discusses the Case.

Captain T. Rosser Roemer, special patrolman of the Central District, is still walking his heat and drawing his pay, despite the charges under which he is to be tried before the Board of Police Commissioners as soon as a meeting can be held.

Chief of Police Campbell and Captain Reynolds, his superior officers, are still tacitly, if not actually, defending him. Both are inclined to believe his statements rather than the affidavits of the three young women who preferred the charges. Neither seems to think the charges of a serious nature, anyway.

Chief Campbell, when asked yesterday if any further action had been taken in the matter, said: "I don't see what on earth the newspapers have got against Reemer. No, he has not been suspended and will not | From be unless the board takes that action,

"I do not believe he did anything wrong intentionally; and the offense charged by the girls is not serious enough to cause his suspension, even if we were convinced that they were true. Roemer denies part of the charges. He is a good officer. The case will go to the board in due order of business."

The charge against Roemer is that the caurge against Roemer is that he accosted three young women on their way home from work, threw his arms about them, bumped their heads against a brick wall and con-tinued to hold them without making any kind of explanation of his continued to hold them without making any kind of explanation of his conduct.

The charges are made by Miss Ella Woody of No. 496 Manchester avenue, Miss Neille Keepler of Maplewood and Miss Rose Littleton of No. 575 Finney avenue, all employes of a downtown store, and of unquestioned reputation.

Captain Peter Reynolds, who made the formal charge of "conduct unbecoming an officer," was asked again yesterday why he had not suspended Roemer, He said:

"We do not suspend officers except for serious offenses, such as being asicep on daty, intextention and other grave matters.

"I did not hear of the case until after it had been printed in The Republic, and then it came to me through the Chief's office."

When the Captain's attention was called to the section of the police manual which gives him authority to suspend a subordinate for any infraction of the rules, he drew a nice distinction between the words "may" and "shall." The rules do not specifically require that patrolmen "shall" be suspended for any offense whatever.

President Hawes of the Police Board, when seen in regard to the case, said:

"We have never before had any charges against Roemer that I know of, and the reports from his superior officers are of the best.

"Wi hout having heard of the case in an official capacity, it seems to me that he has simply made a serious mistake in the character of the young ladies he sought to arrest. As soon as Pelice Commissioner Atmore's health will permit, a board meeting will be held and the full facts in the case will there be disclosed, I cannot conceive how Roemer could intentionally have been suilty of the conduct attributed to him.

"As to the matter of his suspension and the charges being preferred against him, that is something which the Chief alone has to determine. I presume that the hearing before the beard will disclose all the features in the case which may be at this time in some doubt.

"If Roemer was guilty of any intentional misconduct—if be was drink—

"If Roemer was guilty of any inten-tional misconduct-if he was drink-ing-or his actions were such that were calculated to needlessly break the peace, I feel satisfied that the board will deal harshly with him."

DECATUR BANKER'S OFFER.

James Millikin Would Endow an Industrial School. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Later, it was proposed that the Lincoln University, located at Lincoln, Ill., and conducted by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, be incorporated in the industrial school and furnish $190,000.

One of the ministers connected with the Lincoln University says that the school stands ready to furnish the $100,000. The citizens of Decatur, however, have failed to raise their share of the muney.

Mr. Millikin stated some time ago that if Decatur did not take up the proposition he would give the school to some other city, and how the people of Lincoln are making an effort to raise the $100.000. In the hopes that Mr. Millikin will make them the offer and that the industrial school may be located at that place.

Ex-Consal Walter Writes a Letter Excoriating McKinley.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Topicka, Kas., Sept. 6.—Captain John L. Walter, the noted Kansas negro Republican now in Cuba, has reneunced Republicanism and appeals to his people to support W. J. Bryan for President.

The announcement of Mr. Walter's change in politics comes in a letter to Colonel E. C. Little of Abilene.

Captain Walter has had a peculiar history. Born a slave, he managed to secure an ex-

He served under President Harrison as Consul to Madagaacar for four years. Then he secured from the Queen of Madagascar a concession of hundrads of square leagues of land, all wonderfully fertile, and much of it a forest of trees that produce rubber. He was arranging for a railroad and the development of his property, which would have made him one of the richest men on earth. Waller was a Captain in the Twenty-third Kansas Volunteer Regiment and remained in Santiago. In his letter to Colonel Little Captain Waller says:

"I am for William J. Bryan because he is opposed to all that tends to the destruction and obliteration of the nationality of these brave, yet poor, Filipinos.

"How dare America attempt to censure Great Britain in her war against the Boers while she is at the self-same moment engaged in a war far more reprehensible, 19,000 miles sway from home, against a much weaker nation? weaker nation?
"Great Britain is fighting an equal nation so far as intelligence and blood and the knowing of artillery and firearms go. Our Government has an army of 69,000 men and many of the best battleships in the navy fighting a small and weak nation of semi-savages, whose sole desire is to be free and independent.

"How are the mighty fallen!" It cannot now be urged that colored men cannot support Mr. Bryan because if elected he will place the 'South in the suddie.' The record will show that no President will go further in this particular instance than the present national executive."

Dallas, Tex. Sept. 6.—Edward T. Walker of New Haveh, Cenn., spent the day in Dallas on the way from the City of Mexico to his home, Mr. Walker is a brother-in-law of ex-Secretary Richard Olney. He was delighted to read in the political news dispatches that Mr. Olney had announced himself for Mr. Bryan for President, and said enthusiastically:

"I expect to see him stumping New England for the Democratic national ticket befor the month is out. I have always been a Democrat. I contributed to the extent of my ability in 1898, but shall willingly double the amount this year and pay the contribution to the National Committee as I pass through Chicago.

"The extra sum I shall dedicate to antiimperialism. I have hope that Connecticut will cast its electoral vote for Bryan. At any rate, McKinley will not receive one-third the majority he did in 1895. I have been have heard from there daily, and my correspondents post me fully on politics.
